Inishbofin offers an array of activities for tourists to enjoy. From short to long walks taking in the spectacular blowholes and sea stacks and the seal colony of the island to bird watching and discovering the unique flora and fauna of the island. There are numerous beaches for swimming as well as opportunities for diving and sea angling.

The clear clean waters, and white sandy beaches on Inishbofin provide some of the best scuba diving and snorkelling Ireland has to offer. Likewise there are many safe beaches for swimming enthusiasts.

There is so many options to appeal to all personalities, here is an introduction to many on offer.

Explore Inishbofin Island

FISHING

Fishing trips in charter boats and even traditional island currachs can be arranged. Local catches in the Atlantic waters range from herring, mackerel and plaice to the occasional tuna. Gourmet Picnic baskets will be provided for all excursions – just in case you don't fancy cooking your own catch! Smoking of fish can also be organised for anyone who wants to take their catch home.

CYCLING

Bicycle hire can easily be arranged. There is not much traffic on Inishbofin, only a few cars belonging to islanders, so it is an easy and safe island to navigate by bicycle. The undulating landscape of gentle hills is suitable for all abilities.

WALKING

There are several interesting walks to navigate around the island, taking in different points of interest from the historical such as Cromwell's Castle, to the natural such as protected bird and plant life and the local seal colony. Maps are provided free of charge to all guests and guided walks can be arranged upon request.
